History

Monmouth College, when it was founded in 1853, was nothing more than a dream. With the hard work and dedication of a few men that dream became a reality. The dreaming did not end, though. As each class came through they added their dreams to the original. As time moved forward old dreams became reality and old reality became memories. Through this cycle of dreams, reality, and memories, Monmouth has grown into the fine institution it is.

Wallace Hall stands on the site of Monmouth College's original building. The first building was named Graham Hall, but nick-named "Old Main". This building was destroyed by a fire in 1907, and Wallace was designed to replace it. The building of Wallace was part of a master plan in extending the campus to include a science hall and a new women's dorm.

In the surrounding yards, many of the major traditions of the college were carried out: the May Dance in the spring where all the girls dressed up and danced around the May Pole, and the freshman greased pole climb, which all men had to do as part of their initiation into the college. When these events were held, all town business stopped and everyone came to see what was happening. All that remains of these and other yard traditions is the graduation held on Wallace Plaza.

Flanking Wallace Hall, to the east is McMichael Science Hall and to the west Carnegie Hall. McMichael was one of the first expanding project buildings. When it was finished it was acclaimed as being one of the finest science halls in the state. After construction of Halde-man-Thiessen in 1970, the building became offices and classrooms for the Business and Education departments, moving Education from Woodbine (now the ZBT house).

The present Administration Building was at one time the Fine Arts building and before that "the Conservatory". The Conservatory was advertised as a separate school within the college, but in the 1930's became the Fine Arts department. As the years passed, music and art split up, with music moving into the old Sunnyside dorm, now called Austin Hall, and art to the old Hatchery.

The oldest dorm on campus is McMichael dorm for women students, which was built in the original master plan that gave us Wallace and McMichael Science. Greir was built next and the last of the old dorms is Winbigler, which was named for Dean Alice Winbigler, who was at one time dean of women students at Monmouth.

McMichael Hall housed at one time in its basement, the dining hall and all of the kitchens. Greir, on the other hand, had a hospital-like infirmary on the third floor.

The new dorms on campus are Cleland, named for Eva and John Cleland, one time faculty members, and Liedman. Liedman was named for our dear "Dean Jean", one of the best loved women on campus. The last of the new dorms is Gibson, named for a past president of the school.

The national sororities on or formerly on campus are Alpha Xi Delta, Kappa Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Pi Beta Phi. Of these, two were founded on this campus, KKG and Pi Phi. The Kappas founding house stands on the corner of Euclid Avenue and 9th Street, east of the fraternity complex, and the Pi Phi's founding house is Holt House. Both of these were among the first sororities in the United States, Pi Phi being the first.

The fraternities have traditionally had off-campus housing, since housing was only provided for women students at the time the school was founded. According to older alumni, the fraternities were formed basically as a way of buying a house for the sustained use of men students.

At first there were three private fraternities, they are today known as Theta Chi, Alpha Tau Omega, and Tau Kappa Epsilon. All fraternities had their own houses, usually, found on Broadway. In the mid-sixties there was a move to consolidate these organizations into one building. At that time Sig Ep and TKE opted to move into the new complex. They were joined by a relatively new group, the SAE's.

The oldest standing building, of sorts, is the ATO house, formerly known as the Big Eight.

One of the oldest organizations on campus is an unrecognized one, the Octopus Club. This group is often put down as a bunch of pranksters. According to the records left, this group always had a purpose, such as allowing longer visiting hours in women's dorms or more student say in the governing of the school. All that remains of that rather notorious group is Octopus Rock, which is located in Wallace Yard.

Barracks once stood where the new fraternity complex now stands. These old buildings, during the war, housed Navy flight cadets. During the Second World War, part of the college was turned over to the training of Navy fighter pilots. After the war, these barracks were used to house married veterans that wished to attend school.

Quinby House was the home of the Quinby family, dating back to the time of Judge Ivory Quinby, a generous benefactor of the school in its early days. The house has become the traditional home for the college president and his family.

RICH MARTIN

Monmouth certainly has been an experience. Entering Monmouth a long, long time ago, or so it seems, never even having seen the place before I got here, you couldn't ask for friendlier people. The climate of Monmouth was so alien to a New Jersey boy that I did have trouble adjusting.

Having absolutely no desire to become a fratrat, and enter a ridiculous Greek system, I immediately pledged the ZBT.

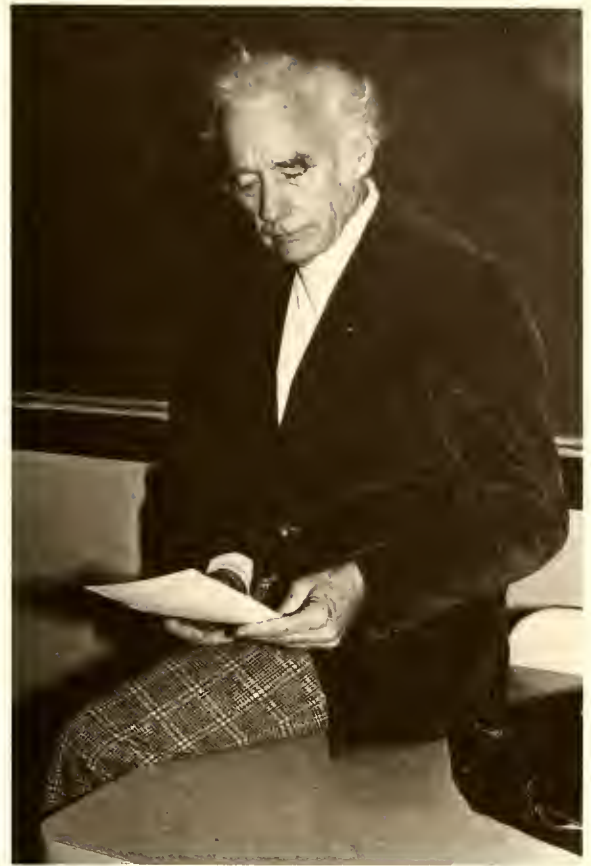

You can't imagine how one group of men could so change, broaden and enlighten another person. I was never an outgoing person in high school, and certainly not a leader.

After serving as president of the fraternity and co-chairman of Freshman Orientation for two years running, I ended up as Editor of the Oracle. In addition, Inter-fraternity Council, Kappa Delta Big Brothers, and a host of other activities added to incredible years of college. I'm sorry it had to end before I tried everything.

PAUL McCLANAHAN

Dr. Paul McClanahan has been at Monmouth College since 1964. Before that, however, Dr. McClanahan has had other ties with the college. Members of his family have been associated with the school since it was founded. His father was a member of the faculty at Monmouth College and held the position of chaplain. Dr. McClanahan now holds the position of chaplain of the college as his father had years ago.

Dr. McClanahan has made students aware of Monmouth College's far-reaching influence. Before taking his position at Monmouth College, he was associated with Assad College in Egypt. Many of the faculty in earlier years have taught in Egypt and then returned to Monmouth.

In the eyes of Dr. McClanahan the major achievement of Monmouth College is the way they made it through the 1960's. He felt that through a more open relationship between faculty and students, some explosive situations were defused.

Bernice Fox

The story of Bernice Fox is a rather interesting story. Bernice Fox did her undergraduate work at Kentucky Wesleyan College, which was about the size of Monmouth College. On her graduation day she graduated Magna Cum Laude, and received honors in five departments: Those being in English, Latin, Education, Math, and Bible.

She furthered her education at the University of Kentucky, receiving her Masters and started working on her Ph.D., at Ohio State University. She had received a graduate assistantship teaching Freshman English.

In 1941, during World War II, she made the decision to help her country in the time of need. She became an Airport Weather Reporter. At that time, she was the first and only woman weather reporter in the Midwest. This lasted almost three years. After that, she worked at several different jobs, consisting of doing accounts receivable at a gift shop and an assistant to a CPA.

In 1947, an old teacher called and told her that it was a crime that she was not teaching. From there she went job hunting and came to Monmouth College to teach English.

In 1952, Dr. Gibson retired and she began to teach English and Latin, which led to just the Classics. On December 24, 1952, Miss Fox found that she had cancer. When her students found out they sent cards, flowers, and pictures saying they needed her back. By this time, she found how wonderful students really are.

During her absence of three weeks, her classes went on. She had all her tests made out and the Sunday before she was to give her final in Classics, she came home to Monmouth. When she arrived at the train station, she was met by half a dozen of her students who took her home. On Monday morning, she was up and at school for her 7:30 final she had to give in Latin.

Talking to Miss Fox, I asked her how she felt when she was told about having cancer. She replied with a smile: "If I survived, it would be the most valuable lesson in my life. As you can see, I have had 25 years of happiness since then."

D: "What is the most important thing you must do to be a good teacher?"

F: "Love your students and, by all means, maintain a sense of humor."

D: "What are the most important developments or additions to the Monmouth College campus?"

F: "The three greatest are the Science Center, the Library, and the Carillon. These add a great dimension of beauty to the campus. The only thing we need now is a fine arts center."

Miss Fox was also the first sponsor for Alpha Lambda Delta. She started the chapter of Eta Sigma Phi in 1956. She commented on this by saying that the Eta Sigma Phi has always been at the national convention and in 1973-74 was given a plaque by the national chapter of Eta Sigma Phi, and in 1975 was Outstanding Educator of the Nation. Miss Fox also holds the president's position of the Illinois Classics Conference of Latin and Greek.

D: "How about your retirement?"

F: "I'm scheduled to retire in 1979. Although the government is working on the problem of discrimination against older citizens and rumors of my departure may be premature."

As you can see, Miss Bernice Fox has served our campus, students and given all she knows to such a small and great school. She has enjoyed her time here and wishes to continue. She has given every ounce of herself and more to this school she calls her life.

Coach Bobby Woll

Coach Woll started here as a student and by his senior year was head football and basketball coach. During his academic years. Coach Woll was a part of the 1932 conference champs in football and in baseball. His record is very impressive in football by the number of yards gained during his three years on the team. In 1931, he gained 70 yards; in 1932, he gained 190 yards; and in 1933, Coach Woll gained a total of 357 yards, with one of them being a 95-yard touchdown run. Also, he was ALL STATE LEADER for scoring 48 points in 1932.

"Monmouth College represents my whole life and I would not change this for anything. I came to Monmouth because my high school coach went to Monmouth, and he sold Monmouth to me. In 1930, the cost was $4.50 per semester hour. You usually took 15 hours, so the cost was $60 per semester. When I came to Monmouth, I had to work for my tuition because all I had was $2.50 in my pocket. I worked mostly in the Alumni Office running the printing press. When I came to Monmouth in 1930, the only buildings on the campus were: Carnegie Library, McMichael Science Hall, Wallace Hall, the Little Theatre, the Auditorium, the Gymnasium, heating plant, McMichael Dorm, Austin Hall (Sunnyside), and Woodbine, which was the president's house.

I was in a fraternity known at that time as TUO, and before that it was Pi Rho Phi. Now it has an offshoot on the campus known as Sigma Phi Epsilon. At the time there was a thing we called campus Baching. This was when 15 or more guys lived in a house and shared the rent. It was crowded, but we all managed to make it.

I could have played pro-basketball, but due to the fact that I had broken my hand the fall before, I decided not to. Also, at that time, Monmouth needed a football coach and the offer was made, and, as you see, I took it. Many athletes have really impressed me. In 1930 one of my best friends and roommate, who played basketball for Monmouth, Osborn was his name, went on and played in the NBA as well as coached for the NBA. In the 1940's, Dr. LeRoy King played basketball for me. He went on and played in the NBA. A guy by the name of Felthouse, can't remember the year off-hand, played for me and transferred to a school in Ohio. After then he went on to play pro and was All-Pro for the Detroit Lions. Another person who really stands out in my mind is a guy by the name of J.R. Weatherly. He was in the Hop-Step-and Jump at the Drake relays and won. He could have been in the Olympics if he had not sprained his ankle.

Another thing that might interest you is that in 1938, we won the Mid-West Conference and in order to get gold basketballs for the team, we sold pictures of the team downtown in Monmouth. With the donations we were able to get gold basketballs for the team.

I've seen six Presidents of Monmouth College since I've been here. So far, I've seen McMichael, Greer, Gibson, Wimpress, Stine and Freed. Freed is still here, but I'm working on that man."

Coach Bobby Woll's number is the number in Monmouth football that has been retired. The famed number of 29 will no longer be on the football field.

In the fall of 1930, a young man from Murphysboro came to Monmouth College for the first time. During his time here at Monmouth, he has served the campus in more ways than most students and faculty ever will.

Pete Berquist

Pete Berquist is a senior Chemistry major from Marenngo, IL. He has been active on campus since his arrival in the fall of 1974, having been involved in many aspects of campus life. He has lab assisted in chemistry, disc-jockeyed on WMCR, been a student center manager, public relations chairman, community life committee chairman, and President of the Student Association. But more than any of those things, Pete was a person who was easy to get along with. He always said hello and on any given occasion, could make a joke of anything. One of his most exhilarating experiences at Monmouth College was at the beginning of his senior year, when he was given the opportunity to speak to the entering freshman class at the opening convocation during freshman orientation week. He put it this way, "It was one of those times that I was glad to be president of SA, those poor freshman had been running around all day, and now they had to sit through four more speeches on Monmouth, so I decided that it would be best for me to throw in a little comic relief—I told them just how far out in the woods Monmouth was, and how to make the best of it."

Pete enjoyed his four years at Monmouth, probably more than most. If you knew him, you can bet your last dollar that he'll remember you.

Melissa Petty is currently the president of the Community Activities Board which is responsible for programming the entertainment for the campus.

Melissa is a senior government and history major from St. Louis. While attending Monmouth, she was actively involved with programming events for the college community. In previous years Melissa was secretary-treasurer of the Community Activities Board. The job of the president and board members is not an easy one because an attempt is made to appeal and to satisfy the numerous groups on campus. The major objective of CAB is to present entertainment for the college community.

The 1977 Volleyball team deserves a big hand this year for its great effort as a team. They proved that they were ready to fight and did so to the end. The team worked hard and proved that Volleyball is not as easy as many might think. They fought hard and proved that hard work pays off in the end. Let's give the team and Coaches a round of applause. Good Luck to the team and coaches next year.

The 1977-78 girls basketball team ended up with a season of eleven wins and only three loses. This goes to show that the womens sports at Monmouth College are just as important to them as any other department is to the own majors. The 1978 yearbook staff congratulates all the women who participate in the athletic program at Monmouth.

Black Expo Week February 19-25th

This years Black Expo Week was far superior to those in the past. With the appearance of Bobby Seale on campus (upper left corner) and the individual readings of poems, and the presentation of an original script by Cathy Goins, titled "FREEDOM" (upper right), gave the weeks activities an air of freedom.

Scot Sing Thursday May 14th

Dr. Gary Wilhardt—MC

This years Scot Sing was indeed an interesting affair. With the entires from Alpha Tau Omega with Kappa Kappa Gamma, Tau Kappa Epsilon with Pi Beta Phi, and Sigma Phi Epsilon with Kappa Delta gave the evening a fine performance. The MC for the evening was Dr. Gary Wilhardt.

The awards went to: Kappa Delta and Sigma Phi Epsilon for best costumes; Pi Beta Phi and Tau Kappa Epsilon for best choreography; and Alpha Tau Omega and Kappa Kappa Gamma over all winners.

Scot Olympics Sat. May 6th

Rock-A-Bye my baby?????????

Scot Olympics got off to a get start this year. Many thing were the same as last years with the exception of more participation from the college organizations. Some of the high lights from this years competition were: the entry of the Kappa Delta Dads, the big boys from Alpha Tau Omega losing the tug-of-war to the old men of Kappa Delta (Dads), Jaun getting dumped in the swimming pool during the Ambulance Race, Sally Dwyer falling during the Potato Sack Race, and the fun all the participates had in the afternoon of fun.

Winning this years Scot Olympics were the Ladies from Pi Beta Phi for the womens teams and the Kappa Delta Dads of the male teams. Although the Dads won they were disqualified and making the men from Zeta Beta Tau winning the mens teams. Pi Beta Phi were the over all winners for the second year in a row and now lets go for three.

STAFF,

I would like to say a few words to my staff. They have been a hard working crew and have been an enjoyable group to work with. The 1978 staff deserves the credit and a standing ovation. If not for the staff and their hard work we would never have put together the best yearbook in the history of the Ravelings. The Staff was great and thanks to each member.

Theta Chi

Theta Chi was founded at Norwich University, Norwich, Vermont, by Cadets Frederick Norton Freeman and Arthur Chase on April 10, 1856. In 1942 Theta Chi absorbed the defunct Beta Kappa Fraternity which increased the number of chapters considerably. It was through this merger that Theta Chi came to Monmouth College.

Pi Beta Phi Fraternity was founded at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois on April 28, 1867. This was the First National secret college society of women to be modeled after the mens Greek-letter fraternity. The present constitution, initiation voros, and internal organization of Pi Beta Phi is basically the same except for the changes made due to Natural growth of the organization. This is just a very small part of Pi Phi which is secret.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Sigma Alpha Epsilon became a local chapter in 1961 and were called Phi Alpha Sigma. In 1963 we had the honor of becoming a national Chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon; a time honored fraternity founded at the University of Alabama on March 9, 1850.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon row call: Tom Short, Bill Richardson, Dave Britten

III, Jeff Clawson, Glen Spaulding, Steve Scanlan, Scot Kohn, Kent Hensen, Lance Olson, Dan Spaulding. Not Pictured are Kevin Hensen, George Krauspe, Paul Ricky, and Joel Nadel.

Sigma Phi Epsilon, a fraternity with many accomplishments and traditions. This year the second largest fraternity nationally will be celebrating its 30th Anniversary here at Monmouth College. The fraternity was founded here on May 22, 1948. When it was first established the house was right next to the Administration Building. Then in September 1967, the fraternity moved to its present address 921 E. Euclid in the fraternity complex. Among many of the symbols of Sigma Phi Epsilon the most prestigious is the Active Badge. A black enameled heart with $\Sigma \Phi E$ in gold, above skull and bones, all within a border of twenty pearls or diamonds set in gold or within a plain border of gold. Sigma Phi Epsilon, a fraternity always striving and accomplishing the ultimates in campus life.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Tau Kappa Epsilon

The Alpha Epsilon chapter of TKE was started at Monmouth in 1928. Through the years we have had 811 brothers join TKE, many of which still keep in touch with the house. During this past year we started a Board of Control which is comprised of former brothers who help aid us with the well being of the house as well as helping us keep our strong tradition in the house.

We are very active in Varsity Sports, we had 7 fraters on the football squad, 7 in basketball, 6 in baseball, and 2 in golf.

We all feel that TKE gives us a special plus in our college life, it helps us grow not only as college students but helps us prepare for latter stages of life.

On December 29, 1898, a group of New York City students formed an organization called ZBT. The founders were members of the Jewish faith who, excluded by the then prevalent sectarian practices of other fraternities, formed a society of their own. Some twenty years ago, ZBT became a non-sectarian society open to all men.

Zbt is the youngest fraternity on the MC campus. It was founded on April 17, 1968, as Phi Epsilon Phi, a local frat. They wanted to go Phi Epsilon Pi national but they merged with ZBT and on May 25, 1971, this local Fraternity became Delta Lamda Chapter of ZBT. The little sisters organization was founded in 1968 and are known as P.E.P.S.I.'S.

ZBT Role call: L/R Back: R. Jacobs, S. Ehrenhart, R. Martin, B. Russell, J. Kraemer, P. Bergguist, P. Palmer, G. Lowe, S. Dick, D. Rankin, C. Nelson, J. Ray, R. Brooks, M. Taylor, J. Elliott, G. This year Monmouth College, celebrated it's 125th year of existence. She was proud to graduate 139 men and women on June 3rd. These men and women now step into the world to carry on in the places of others who have passed before us. They will be proud to say "Yes I'm an alum of Monmouth" and will grow to love MC even more . . .

The last thing to do is a promise I made to Richard Lee Bingaman. During Senior pictures Rich borrowed Dr. Diebow Freed's suit coat, to have his picture taken. I made this promise to Rich as a bet that he would not ask Dr. Freed. So look back at Rich's Senior photo and there it is. Thanks to Dr. Freed and Rich Bingaman.

STUDENTS,

This is the time that the editor is to say his final good-byes. I would like to start by saying thanks to Mary Crow. All of the colored photos were from her collection and many of these photos can be seen in the Administration Building. Without her we would never have made our first deadline. I told Mary one evening that the photos printed up so well that if she was trying to become a professional photographer that it would be great to have this yearbook in her port-folio.

One of the main objectives for the editor is not to be hung up on any one organization or group of people but to try and get everyones photo in there. Hopefully some where in this yearbook you can find your picture. I tried to get everyone but sorry if I missed you.

In our planning for this yearbook we wanted to show how hard the staff worked so in doing this book in two sections was to give everyone a chance to look at part of their school year before everyone went home. I'm glad to say that out of 700 copies we ordered over 600 of them have been delivered.

Some poeple who I would like to thank personally are: Sandy Hutton, for all his hard work in the photography area; Cindy Chavez for all her creative ideas in the field of art; Tenann Houghton for all her great work as secretary and typist; Janice Barton, for all her help in the area of page layout; Jeff Dines and James Lansbarkis, for all their help in the area of photography; Annalee Feldmann, with all her help in the area of business-and thanks for paying the bills; Rich Martin, for all the help in typing and staying up late helping us make deadlines; John Smallwood, for all the help in loaning us a typewriter from his fathers business to use for the year; Mary Boyle, Ruth Magnus, Chuck Spencer, Emma, Mike, Cindy, Mary Ann, Marla, Tim, and the entire staff for all their individual work.

To my fellow senior class mates: GOOD LUCK in the future and see all of you in twenty years.

Thanks to all campus organizations for their cooperation in getting their pictures taken. Some of you were great and some of you were hard to get together, but it all worked out in the end.

When taking the job of editor I thought it would be an easy job. Well, it's not all that easy. There were times I wanted to throw the towel in and just quit. But thanks to a level headed person by the name of John Anderson, I was able to last. Many of my staff probably wished I would have quit or died but, I'm not a quitter and no way was Monmouth College going to conquer me. In stead I decided to conquer Monmouth College. As a senior I know that I will miss this place and some day I hope I will be able to return. I would like to wish the editors for next year; Janice and Tenann a lot of luck. Good luck to photo lab next year and all the other organizations.

An editor could go on for several pages so this editor will close by saying: "so long to Monmouth college and thanks for being there. Good Luck in the future.

Love to all,
Daniel Clay

In Memoriam

RICHARD MARK LYMAN, born April 15, 1959 to Mr. and Mrs. Walter and Anne Lyman. Dick had one brother James Lyman. Dick lived in Springfield, Illinois; and attended Lanphier High School. While there he was in football, track, and various types of singing groups. He enjoyed school and all activities he was in. The biggest reason for this was that he was very outgoing and loved to be with people. Dick enjoyed life and was a leader throughout it. People liked Dick very much and saw him as a model person to follow. But Dick wasn't perfect and tried things just like any other guy. But he never did anything to hurt anyone. Dick made a lot of friends, we all loved him very much and will miss him. Dick succeeded and excelled in everything he did, so I'm sure he's where all of us want to be when our life ends.

Dan Pulliam
